January 12 Set For Attendance At All-County Session in R. C.

Vincent Sinato, 54,
Of S. S. F., Latest
Crash Victim

Appalled by the county's 1936 traffic toll, which reached 75 over the week-end, Dist. Atty. Gilbert Ferrell today scheduled for January 12 a conference of city and county officials in an effort to stem the tide of death sweeping peninsula highways.

Mayors, chiefs of police, highway patrol representatives, justices of the peace and other judges, members of the traffic committee of the last grand jury and other citizens will be invited to attend the conference at 8 p. m. in the county courthouse, Ferrell said.

Other developments in the county traffic situation were:

1. Judges Edward I. McAuliffe of Redwood City and Rudolph A. Rapsey of San Bruno informed of the calling of the traffic conference, scored the county supervisors for their failure to take action on recommendations made to them last May through the grand jury by the peace and judicial officers' council.

2. Over a week-end otherwise relatively free of accidents Vincent Sinato, 54-year-old South San Francisco apartment house owner, met death in a northend accident that set the already all-time traffic fatality record one notch higher.

3. Cleve Hower, 46, of Burlingame, auditor for the state board of equalization, was formally

BURLINGAME TO INCREASE HETCHY USE

City Will Take All
Of Supply From
San Francisco

BURLINGAME, Dec. 29.—Joining Redwood City and Palo Alto in their plans to take more water from the Hetch Hetchy system of the San Francisco water company, Burlingame last night agreed to buy all its water from Hetch Hetchy, the agreement coming in a closed meeting of the council with the city water commission, it was revealed today.

According to City Clerk J. R. Murphy, manager of the Burlingame Municipal Water Department, the city will, starting January 1, take 100 per cent of its water from the Hetch Hetchy system. Formerly 85 per cent was bought from the Hetch Hetchy system and the remainder was from three municipally operated wells.

The three wells will be abandoned by the city, although plans are now under way to keep the equipment intact and ready for use in case of emergency, Water Superintendent Harry Schuck said.

While no agreement was signed between the city and the San Francisco water company, it was anticipated that Burlingame would share in like manner with Palo Alto and Redwood City on all rate reductions for excess water used.

Meanwhile in San Francisco E. G. Cahill, utilities manager, announced that reductions in the rates charged peninsula cities for Hetch Hetchy water would go into effect January 1 regardless of last minute efforts to reduce rates in San Francisco first.

Eight Cities' Firemen Honor Fred Whitaker

Firemen from eight communities participated in the funeral services Monday at the Church of the Nativity in Menlo Park for Fred E. Whitaker, former captain in the San Francisco Fire Department and for 13 years chief of the Menlo Park department.

The cities of Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Woodside, Redwood City, Belmont, San Mateo, San Francisco and South San Francisco were represented.

Honorary pallbearers were Stephen Gilbert, John Morey, George Casey, James Murray, Henry Weedon, John Jerill, Alphonse Seiller, Frank Roche, John Tuttle, Patrick Kearney, Neal Pendergast, all of Menlo Park and S. E. Douglass, Redwood City police officer.

A group of Menlo Park and San Francisco firemen served as active pallbearers.

Burial followed at Holy Cross Cemetery. Mr. Whitaker died Saturday in Palo Alto Hospital. His home was at 155 Yale road, Menlo Park.

charged with negligent homicide and manslaughter as the result of the Christmas Eve Bayshore highway crash in Burlingame where Harold Crotty, 36, of San Jose, met death.

"Many accidents are the result of plain ordinary carelessness on the part of pedestrians," Ferrell said in mapping plans for the January 12 conference.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

"I think that an effective means to combat the situation would be through an educational campaign in schools, service clubs and women's clubs, combined with a law enforcement campaign."

Both Ferrell and his assistant, Daniel Sullivan, hit at the public's callousness over the mounting traffic death rate.

Ferrell said he hoped that out of the conference would grow a standing committee to investigate other counties' methods of meeting traffic problems, and to analyze accident causes and means of prevention.

MAY ASK LEGISLATION

Newly elected assemblymen and senators will also be invited to the conference, Ferrell said, with the view of preventive legislation being projected.

It was just such a standing committee that was proposed by the judicial and peace officers' council which mapped a traffic prevention campaign at the instance of the last grand jury, which was dismayed at the terrific toll taken by death on the county's highways.

AIRLINER WRECKAGE IN WHICH 12 DIED

To their deaths in this tangled mass of wreckage, found on a mountain near Saugus, Los Angeles county, went Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Ford Jr. of San Marino, shown here at their marriage in 1935. They were returning to Los Angeles from Mills field after a visit in the San Francisco Bay region when the crash occurred. (Associated Press Photos).

Redwood Theatre Sold for $30,000 To P.A. Company

Purchase of the Redwood Theatre by the Palo Alto Theatre Company was disclosed today with filing of the deed of sale in the county recorder's office. According to federal revenue stamps affixed, the sale price was $30,000. The deed conveyed the California and Montgomery street structure from the co-partnership of Frease & Watson to the theatre company, which is a division of the Fox West Coast corporation. The theatre company controls the Fox Sequoia in Redwood City and several other peninsula theatres. W. B. Prime is manager of the Redwood Theatre.

Mrs. Waters Moves Divorce Be Voided

Legal troubles continued today to embroil James F. Waters, Woodside resident and San Francisco automobile dealer, as Mrs. Lura B. Waters filed a superior court motion to vacate her interlocutory decree, obtained a year ago. Waters meanwhile faces another court action—a breach of promise suit filed by Pauline Haece. The motion, which Atty. Harry I. Stafford will argue tomorrow before Judge J. J. Van Nostrand in San Francisco, assigned as principal grounds for setting aside the decree a charge that Mrs. Waters was a victim of fraud and deceit.

He asserted that all during the divorce action she had no independent legal counsel and was defrauded out of her just share of community property by wilful misrepresentation on Waters' part.

El Camino 'Scenic' Plan Meets Setback

Rebuffing the peninsula's desire to eliminate the "alternate" signs on El Camino Real, Earl Lee Kelly, director of the state department of public works, has informed Secretary Gilbert Keitt of the San Mateo chamber of commerce that he would have to take the matter up with W. C. Markham, secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials, Washington, D. C.

Kelly declared in a letter by Keitt over the week-end that it is the policy of the association to consider as "alternate" any route other than that considered most direct. There is no provision, he said, for use of any other word than "alternate" and to have the change made would necessitate revamping the association's policy. The peninsula chambers of commerce have sought to have El Camino Real named "Scenic" route No. 101, with the Bayshore being designated as for "Commercial Traffic."

Storm Leaves Little Damage On Peninsula

Coast Crops Receive
'Wonderful Start'
From Downpour

Moving inland Monday, the week-end storm which drenched the peninsula, doing a great deal of good to county crops and causing greater inconvenience than damage, left San Mateo county with numerous flooded basements, minor slides on roadside roads, and a few fallen telephone poles and trees.

County Agricultural Commissioner Max Leonard beamed over the "wonderful start" given winter crops by what was "just a shower" compared to what the coastside farmers need.

County Engineer U. S. Marshall said that minor damage was done the La Honda road by slides involving trees and stumps, but none of the county's roads was closed by the downpour, and the county's WPA projects were still in full swing.

NINE-FOOT TIDES

Marshall said that a three-foot tide constructed along the road leading from Redwood City to the cement plant prevented the road from being flooded by the nine-foot tides which brought dangerously high waters Saturday and Sunday. The engineering department's crew constructed the dikes along a 400-foot stretch in peril of being submerged.

In Redwood City damage was minor. One basement was flooded in a home on Iris street, and two wires on fire department signal boxes were down on James street, officials reported. L. E. Wolbert, superintendent of the local Pacific Gas & Electric Company, said that his crews had been busy over the week-end repairing wires broken by five fallen trees, but that "nothing serious" had occurred.

SNOW IN HILLS

Meanwhile hail and snow were reported on the La Honda, Saratoga and Alpine summits along the Skyline boulevard. The snow was only a light covering and was expected to melt with the sunshine today.

Elsewhere on the peninsula, the rains flooded the bottom floors and basements of several stores in Palo Alto, submerged the San Mateo municipal golf course near the Bayshore highway, and caused several telephone poles and eucalyptus trees to topple over in Lomita Park and in other northend communities.

Locally 1.24 inch of rain fell since Saturday—2.06 inches for the storm—making the season total 4.15 inches, ahead of last year's record for this date when the total precipitation stood at 3 inches.

Gunman Still Hints Vengeance Despite Term

Still admittedly wanting vengeance against his estranged wife, yet fearing its results, Earl F. Parsons, St. Louis salesman who the day before Christmas asked police here to arrest him before he killed someone, was sentenced to the county jail for 90 days when he appeared late yesterday before Judge Edward I. McAuliffe. At the same time Parsons concurred with Rose Marian, his wife who is living near Five Points, that their son, Earl, 12, McKinley student, should be placed in a private home. Juvenile Officer Francis Robinson started court action today to make the boy a ward of the superior court.

Parsons, who came west by air after receiving a plaintive letter from his son complaining about his life here, refused to promise Judge McAuliffe that he would commit no violence against his wife or Frank Martin, with whose family she is living, upon being released from jail. Judge McAuliffe said he would make sure that there would be no violence for the 90 days he must serve as a guest of the city, for conviction on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

NOMINATIONS FOR SERVICE AWARD OPEN

Blank Runs Daily
In Tribune Until
January 5th

Nominations were in order today for candidates for the honor of being adjudged Redwood City's most valuable citizen of 1936.

Recipient of the community service award given jointly by the Redwood City Post No. 105, American Legion, and The Tribune, will be selected from those nominated. A blank for nomination purposes appears today in The Tribune on page 10, and will be run continuously until nominations close January 5 in time for selection of the winner to be made so that he or she can be announced at the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, January 13, in the Sequoia high school cafeteria.

Accompanying the nomination blank should be sent reasons, in not more than 50 words, why the nominee should receive the honor. The blank should be mailed to Board of Judges, Community Service Award, care of Redwood City Tribune.

County's Aged Get $14,484

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28 (AP)—A total of 59,058 aged persons received old age assistance amounting to $1,862,998.94 in November. The average per person throughout the state was $31.55; in October the average was $31.45.

The state, counties, and federal government in paying the old age pensions, the federal government contributing up to $15 a month per individual, and the state and counties dividing the remainder equally.

San Mateo county in November had 467 receiving old age assistance, the total of which was $14,484.06 and the average $31.02.

Alpine county, with the least population in the state, did not have any person drawing old age assistance in November. San Benito county paid the lowest, $26.42, and Ventura county, the highest, $33.13.

Los Angeles county had 21,191 persons drawing assistance.

Millbrae Man's Kin Wounded By Shotgun

SAN JOSE, Dec. 28.—With his left hand shattered from a hunting accident, Charles Berg, 25, San Francisco, was rushed to a hospital here late Saturday by his father-in-law, Earl Marcotte, San Francisco AAA official and resident of 320 Hazel avenue, Millbrae.

The two men were hunting quail in Uvas valley when Marcotte heard his son-in-law scream following a shotgun blast. Part of the breach had blown off, tearing Berg's hands badly and nearly blowing off his thumb. Marcotte applied a rope tourniquet and rushed Berg 20 miles to the O'Connor sanitarium.

Deputy sheriffs who investigated were at a loss to explain the accident, although they said it was possible mud might have clogged the end of the old-fashioned shotgun.

Spartan Footballers Glad to Return Home

SAN JOSE, Dec. 28.—Returning to San Jose after crossing more than 7000 miles of land and sea, the Spartan gridmen were glad to be home today, following a month of journeying, which included a round trip to Hawaii, where the local boys defeated Island teams in two games.

The wanderers, who first took the University of Hawaii 13 to 8, and then the Kamehameha Alumni, 33 to 6, brought home a tale of seasickness and delayed schedules, both handicaps which they proved capable of overcoming.

R. C. GIRL WEDS

Laura L. Pilgrim, 24, of Redwood City, and John Kurucz Jr., 23, of Burlingame took out a marriage license in San Francisco over the week-end.

William Scott Is Fatally Hurt Near Millbrae

As Car Distributor
Traffic Victim

Hurled through the windshield of his automobile after striking a road construction flagman, careening into a ditch and overturning twice before crashing into a steam shovel, William O. Scott, 44, Redwood City automobile dealer, was fatally injured at 1:30 a.m. yesterday in an accident on El Camino Real near Millbrae.

San Mateo county's 76th traffic victim of 1936, the seventh person to be killed here in five of the bloodiest days in this county's traffic history, Scott suffered a fractured skull, broken jaw, scalp injuries, broken ribs and a crushed chest. He died a few minutes after being admitted to Mills Memorial Hospital, San Mateo.

Lawrence Burke, 35, of Brisbane, watchman on the pipeline construction job for which the steam shovel and other digging equipment are being used, was struck a glancing blow by Scott's machine as he attempted to flag Scott onto the highway. Burke's injuries, none of them serious, were given first aid at Mills Hospital.

Burke was the second pipeline watchman to be injured by an automobile last night. At 9:30 o'clock, Charles Hibbard, 45, Daly City, was cut about the head when run down by the car of John J. Wynne, 37, San Francisco, at the exact spot where a few hours later Scott was to meet death.

Peyser Estate Worth $121,931, Appraiser Says

Left mostly to charity, the estate of Charles G. Peyser of San Mateo, San Francisco clothier stood appraised today in local superior court at $121,931, of which all but $10,000 is in a savings account in a San Mateo bank.

Eight Hebrew, Catholic and Protestant hospitals and orphan asylums in San Francisco will receive most of the estate, according to the will left by Peyser when he died in San Mateo October 5. The institutions were left specific bequests ranging from $2,500 to $5,000, with the proviso that after other bequests had been settled, the balance of the huge estate would be divided between the institutions.

MENLO PARK

Street Commissioner Irving Dunn is doing considerable street work in town. His improvement of Oak Grove avenue is commendable. Nearly all the important roads are being touched up.

William Dowd, the plumber, was removed to the Community Hospital December 22, suffering from a severe illness. He conducted a successful contracting business in San Francisco and lived here for some time. At one time Mr. Dowd was employed by K. L. Martin.

John F. Foley, architect for the new addition to the Corpus Christi Monastery, was here last week to make final arrangements for its completion. Mr. Foley is a brother of City Treasurer Mrs. C. Maloney. Mr. Foley does a good portion of architect work for the Catholic church in the bay region.

That portion of Laurel avenue between Glenwood avenue and Encinal avenue is being repaired by U. S. Marshall, the county engineer. For many years the road has been neglected for the reason of the light travel over it. It goes directly to Felton Gables, where 20 houses are being erected. When finished it is to be one of the finest thoroughfares in this locality.

The night nurse staff of the Palo Alto Hospital enjoyed a Christmas tree at one of the nurse's homes in Palo Alto last week. Gifts were exchanged and a short program was rendered. Among those from Menlo Park who attended were Miss Catherine Maloney, Mrs. Lyda Gale Moore, Mrs. M. Millar and Mrs. J. O'Neill.

The Sunday School children of the Church of the Nativity enjoyed the Christmas tree in the Hall of the Nativity last week. Every youngster was given a gift. The short program was given by the boys and girls that was applauded by the elders present.

Father Thomas McKeon distributed the presents.

The Menlo Park Fire Department was called out last week to put out a blaze at the home of Earl Hook on Laurel avenue. Only slight damage was done owing to the quick response of Chief Cuff and his men.

All local churches observed Christmas morning by special services and singing by augmented choirs. Masses were celebrated at the Church of the Nativity at 6:30, 7, 8, and 11 o'clock, the latter a solemn high mass. Festival of the Holy Communion and the hymns of music of the Christmas Eve service were repeated Christmas Day at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Between 75 and 80 children attended the Christmas party given last week in the Legion Hall at Menlo Park by Menlo Park Post, No. 443, American Legion, and its Auxiliary unit. Guests were children of veterans and members of the Boy Scout troop which the post sponsors.

A program was given, games played, and a Christmas tree enjoyed.

Yule Birth Keeps Old Family Custom

SAN BRUNO, Dec. 28.—Santa Claus carried out an old Simpson family custom at the South San Francisco Hospital Christmas Day, and as a result young Darrell Russell Simpson and his grandfather have the same birthday.

Santa Claus, with the aid of Mr. Stork, left young Darrell for Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Simpson of 339 Huntington avenue, San Bruno, at 12:15 p.m. Christmas Day, the only baby born that day in San Mateo county. Mrs. Simpson's father, Robert Austin of Shasta county, also was born on Christmas Day.

Judge McNutt Demands Probe Where Needed

Three Redwood City Residents Chosen Grand Jurors

With three Redwood City residents drawn on the grand jury, Judge Maxwell McNutt swore in the inquisitors yesterday in superior court and charged them to investigate gambling.

"If it comes to your attention that lotteries, gambling of any kind, slot machines or book-making, itself a felony, are rife in this county, it is your duty to stop it, and you have the means to stop it," he instructed the 19 jurors selected from a panel of 30, with only two veniremen being excused from duty.

Following their induction, the "watchdogs" of San Mateo county's political and official morality during the coming year saw Patrick Rorke, Burlingame china merchant, appointed by Judge McNutt as their foreman.

Redwood City's trio of representatives on the jury are Clarence M. Dorse, 79 Claremont street, Mrs. Louise M. Alexander, 29, Clinton street, and Mrs. Minnie T. Ross, 221 Myrtle street.

Dorse is president of the San Mateo County Title Company. The two women are housewives. Burton A. Barteaux, 718 Arguello, Redwood City butcher, had his name drawn from the ballot box, but was excused by Judge McNutt from jury duty. He said his business would not allow him the necessary time.

Couple Ask $25,000 For Death of Youth

Asking $25,000 for death of their son, Alexander Steinmetz, 26, killed December 7 in a motorcycle accident in Burlingame, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Steinmetz had placed on file in superior court today a damage suit against Palmalee Smith, driver of the car, and Smith & Smith, Inc., San Francisco automobile dealers. The parents of the cyclist are represented by Atty. Norman Menefee of Redwood City.

CREW ON PLANE

With nine passengers, Miss Yvonne Trego, top, stewardess; Robert McLean, center, co-pilot, and Edward Blom, pilot, went to their deaths when a United Air Lines bi-motored plane crashed as it was nearing Los Angeles after taking off Sunday night from Mills Field. (Associated Press Photos).

Leland Cutler Hurt In Fall With Horse

WOODSIDE, Dec. 29.—Caught under his horse when the animal slipped and fell, Leland W. Cutler, president of the San Francisco 1938 exposition, suffered a broken left foot which kept him confined to his home today. He was riding with his daughter, Miss Jane Lee Cutler, when the horse stumbled near here. The injury is of a minor nature, however, and Cutler expects to return to his San Francisco office within a few days.

$150 in Fines Hit Motorists

Either because the hand of the law was lightened by Yuletide influence, or because the pressure of drivers' feet on accelerators became lighter during Christmas season, traffic arrests by state highway patrolmen and local police fell off during the last week, records of Judge Edward I. McAuliffe showed here today.

Three speeders were arrested in the vicinity of Redwood City by highway patrol officers, one of the offenders, Gini Landi, San Francisco, paying a $5 fine, and the other two, Roy H. Rundel, San Jose, and Vincent D. Ward, Upland, both being assessed $250. For not stopping at an arterial, Emil Dehoff, Redwood City, paid $250.

Local police bagged six speeding offenders, two of them, Wilbur Krell Jr. and Robert Erickson, paying $10 for their traffic sins.

The others, all assessed $250 were Dell Wortner, Mary Varraes, Arnaldo Marson and Ernest J. Sulton. Overparking in Redwood City cost Vincent Guida, L. F. Winkender and Mary Valencia, $1 apiece.

Illegal turns brought the same fines to Peter J. Manessera and Lemard J. Castleton, while going through an electric signal resulted in $250 fines for James Gennert and A. H. Gandy.

Fines for the period totaled $150, but the major share of this sum was the $100 contributed by Percy Forest, Redwood City salesman, for driving while intoxicated.

Miss Coffinberry Becomes Bride Of Robert Duncan

Only members of the two families and a few close friends attended the candlelight wedding ceremony at which Robert Duncan of South San Francisco claimed Miss Martha Nello Coffinberry of Redwood City as his bride. The marriage vows uniting the couple were read Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Burlingame by the Rev. Herald G. Gardner.

The bride, who was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Otto Kloppenburg of Glendale, as matron of honor, wore a tailored traveling suit and brown accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Kloppenburg chose a frock and hat in a matching rust shade and wore a corsage of talisman roses. Attending Mr. Duncan as best man was Norman Hynding of South San Francisco.

The bride's mother was in a frock of black and white. Twenty relatives and friends attended the dinner at Jackson's in Burlingame that followed the ceremony. Poinsettias decorated the table at which the wedding dinner was served.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Seattle, where they will make their home after the bridegroom has finished his course this spring in the University of California medical school.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coffinberry of Redwood City, attended South San Francisco High School and the University of California at Los Angeles. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Duncan of South San Francisco.

Lewis Browne, critic, will appear Tuesday evening, January 5, at San Mateo Junior College under auspices of the Community Lecture Series. He will take as his topic, "What Our Novelists Are Saying."

Dr. Browne gave such an interesting talk last season that he was requested by more than 90 per cent of his audience to return this year. He is the author of "Blessed Spinoza," "This Believing World" and "How Odd of God." In his lecture Dr. Browne, for years a literary critic on "The Nation," "The New Republic" and the "Saturday Review of Literature," will consider the social significance of the works of some of the leading novelists.

Sinclair Lewis said of Dr. Browne, "Lewis Browne gives one the pleasure of watching a brain free from prejudices and fanaticalisms yet warm with humanitarianism, hard and athletic from many studies, yet alive to the gaieties, the absurdities, the lovable commonnesses of daily life."

The Community Lecture Series has yet to present Helen Howe, monologist, and Baroness Keichi Ishimoto, Japanese feminist.

Mrs. Alfred Young, 1612 Ralston avenue, Burlingame, is in charge of reservations for the series.

Say! who reads the ads anyway?

There they are, next to the play-by-play dope on the ball game, cutting off the news of So-and-So's engagement party so you have to jump clear to the middle of the next column to finish it. Those ads! You know who runs them, their signatures are on 'em—but who reads 'em anyway? The printer? That's right—but shucks, he's paid to! And the advertiser—sure, he reads them to see if the paper got the prices right. Who else? What's the great American ad-reader look like? Who reads the ads? Let's solve the mystery . . . and see!

This fellow's income is 'way above average; there are not many like him, we'll admit. Retired from real estate last year; survived the depression nicely, thank you, and will be back from Hawaii in September. Gets a kick out of picking up $7 shirts for $3.79 by waiting for the sales. Reads the ads—not every day—but wouldn't think of buying without checking the price and quality against every value in the paper.

Remember her debut party? She'll be back at Stanford in the fall; right now she's pretty busy, what with the little car a Tribune ad helped sell her Dad, the places all the crowd goes to (they say the boys pick them from the Tribune), and the show her club gives every summer. To date she's tracked down material for costumes, arranged for tickets, and has practically closed a deal with a florist . . . all through the Tribune!

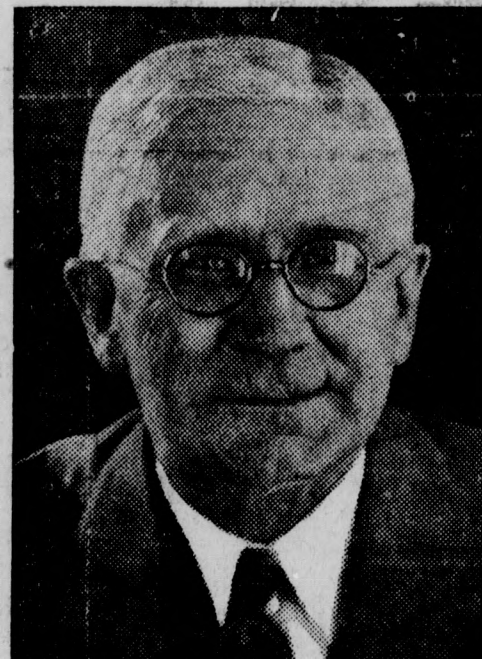

She likes to say that the children are grown up and out of the way now . . . but just watch her smile when she sees an ad for print wash frocks . . . size 2 to 6! Keeps a gift list that touches almost every day of the calendar, and half the dates are for children! Entertains a lot, too, and manages to belong to quite a few of the clubs. Proud of her home, and not a bit unwilling to take advantage of a bargain for it when the Tribune backs it up!

Hers is a pretty complete little world, of course. Two children, a busy young husband, a new house . . . a little dominion that's pretty hard to crash. But she's made the Tribune a welcome intruder. Where else, she asks, would she find the same help in keeping a not-too-big budget straight . . . how else could she keep the house looking so newly furnished on so little . . . what other source would be so obliging about tipping her off on dozens of sales every day.

Still prefers the comics, but graduated into the ad reading class last year, when he decided he wanted a prep suit like the one his buddy Charlie got. Has since found quite a few things he's going to own some day. Sold on one make of bicycle right now, and a certain page of the Tribune has a way of popping up in a prominent place each night about the time that Dad's due home.

Belongs to one of Redwood City's service clubs, has kept a good business going for a number of years, and has a son who's going into the business some day soon. Makes a hobby of his place up at the lake, and won't let a gun or tackle ad out of his sight till he's read it all the way through. Finds the Tribune ads a good indication of business conditions in the city . . . as well as an effective medium for his own business.

Still in school, but looking forward to the day when he can buy his first car. Just at present quite satisfied with the buys he finds in sporting goods in the Tribune. Interested in what the well dressed young man should wear, and willing to do a little research in the subject. (It's whispered that she lives just a block or two away). Working the family pretty hard for the trip South that he read about in an ad in the Tribune.

Had a tough time a couple of years ago. But he found a job through the "Help Wanted" section in the classifieds, and he and the wife have been reading the ads for one reason or another ever since. First it was the new furniture they needed when they stopped "doubling up" with her folks, then they needed a used car, and right now, since things look better at the plant and there's another nest egg laid away, they're looking for another house.

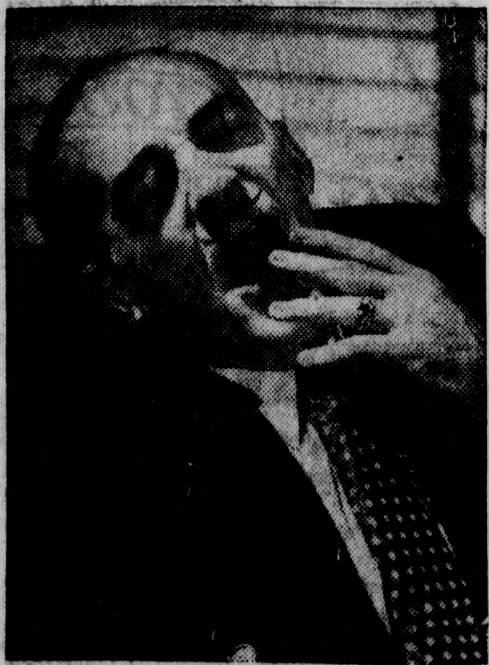

Pretty shrewd, this youngster! Kind of hated to leave the city and go back to the farm, but he's managed to combine the advantages of both places in just a few short years. First saw the radio he now owns in a Tribune ad. Installed a bathroom after a Tribune ad told him how inexpensive the fixtures would be. Found that he'd save time by trading in the old truck on a light pick-up that a Redwood City dealer advertised. And he saved money on the reaper that he picked out of the want-ads!

Not too many free hours in her life! But the Tribune makes every one of them do double duty, when she starts off on a shopping tour. Clothes have to be smarter, to make up for hours spent in a uniform; cosmetics have to be better, to pass her rigid inspection; everything she buys must get by a sentry-like insistence on perfection. She learned back in her student days that she could rely on Tribune ads, and she's learned since that she can depend on them to save her off-duty time.

It's a date! And that, as any bright young member of Sequoia High will tell you, means a trip through the Tribune ads. It may be for some new hose . . . for a place to have the white coat cleaned . . . for something really different to wear if it's a dance. But whatever the occasion, it's reason enough for a trip through the ad pages, especially when it's almost as much fun as a shopping expedition, and saves the strain on next week's allowance.

"You wouldn't catch me reading the ads . . . just a waste of my valuable time." Oh oh! Puts us in a bad spot. Your photo must have gotten in here by mistake. Sorry . . . hey, wait a minute! . . . that tie you've got on . . . didn't we see that pattern advertised about a week ago? Uh-huh . . . well, we thought so!

The answer, of course, can be briefly told; everybody reads the ads each day in

Preventorium Drive Pushed

The San Mateo Preventorium's drive for funds ends New Year's Day.

And 28 little San Mateo county children who benefit directly by the drive are hopeful that by that date the $12,000 necessary to carry on the preventorium's program will have been realized.

Prominent men and women all over San Mateo county have been moved by the plight of these little children who are making their fight for health thanks to the preventorium aid.

San Mateo county residents were urged by Mrs. Harry S. Dana, president of the organization, to loosen up their purse strings:

"Every man and woman on the peninsula must realize how necessary it is to support the preventorium, which for the past 16 years has saved hundreds of peninsula children from falling victims to tuberculosis.

"We hope that through the generosity of local residents the preventorium will be able to face the year 1937 assured of sufficient funds to carry on its health work in behalf of San Mateo county children."

Flood Trial Figure Expires in Oakland

Blotting out an important page in the famous James L. Flood estate battle, one of the most historic cases ever contested in Redwood City's courts, death late yesterday took Mrs. Alfreda Forde, 98, maternal grandmother of Mrs. Constance May Gavin, successful claimant to a daughter's share in the Flood millions.

The aged figure in the celebrated court battle passed away at her Oakland home. Mrs. Forde was the mother of Mrs. Eudora Helen Willette, who testified against her daughter in the contest, declaring Constance was not Flood's child. Funeral services will be held at the Clarence N. Cooper chapel, Oakland, tomorrow at 9:30 a.m.

Tony Bush Denies State Dope Charge

Tony Bush, Pittsburgh laborer, charged with violation of the state narcotic act, pleaded not guilty today in the local superior court of Judge Maxwell McNutt. His trial was set for January 7. Bush was the one who gave officers the tip leading to the arrest of Mrs. Dolberta Nunes, Pescadero Mexican housewife believed to be one of the largest wholesalers of marijuana in the Bay area. Her request for probation, after pleading guilty, was continued one week by Judge McNutt.

A REAL GOOD TURN

Scouting in San Mateo county did a real good turn this Christmas. Over 75 needy families in various communities enjoyed a happier holiday as a result of gifts of seasonal foods given them by Boy Scouts.

TO ATTEND JAMBOREES

A national and an international scout jamboree will be attended by scouts from San Mateo county during the coming year. A troop of scouts will this year go to Washington, D. C., during the latter part of the summer for the 1937 National Boy Scout Jamboree. Howard Hoover, scoutmaster of Troop 10, Burlingame, will lead the jamboree troop. Two reservations for the trip, which is to include side trips to points of interest along the way and throughout the East, have already been received. Registrations are limited.

Planning to journey all the way to Holland, Melvin Donaldson, member of Troop 92, Hillsborough, is the first to reserve passage for the International Jamboree to be held on the shores of the famous Zinder Zee.

Information relative to either of the trips may be obtained from the scout office at 1204 Burlingame avenue, telephone 2158.
